Course description

Schools are not only places for academic learning. They also play an important role in developing emotional skills, positive relationships and a sense of belonging. Creating a supportive school culture can strengthen student engagement and wellbeing while helping educators build more positive and fulfilling professional experiences.

Drawing on Positive Education and Positive Psychology, this practical course introduces strategies for strengthening emotional awareness, empathy, resilience, motivation and supportive classroom relationships. Participants will work with positive communication, strengths-based feedback, social-emotional learning activities and everyday wellbeing routines. They will also consider how teacher wellbeing, mindfulness and positive habits can contribute to a healthier school environment.

Through interactive exercises, group discussions, roleplay and collaborative workshops, participants will examine practical examples from European schools and develop a Positive Learning and Wellbeing Action Plan for their own educational context. They will identify realistic strategies for creating positive learning environments, supporting emotional wellbeing and integrating sustainable wellbeing practices into everyday school life.

Peer / trainer feedback supports refinement throughout the process, while European exchange encourages participants to compare practices, perspectives and approaches across different educational contexts.

Methods applied in this programme

Positive Education & Wellbeing Reflection

Guided discussions, self-reflection and school-based examples help participants examine Positive Education principles and identify wellbeing priorities.

Emotional Skills & Positive Classroom Practice

Practical exercises, roleplay and wellbeing routines develop emotional awareness, empathy, strengths-based feedback and positive classroom relationships.

Collaborative School Wellbeing Project Design

Participants examine school wellbeing initiatives and work together to develop practical action plans adapted to their educational settings.

Collaborative learning, peer exchange and reflection

Participants work with European colleagues, compare professional contexts, exchange approaches and reflect on how the learning can be transferred to their own institutions.

> Illustrative example: Developing a Positive Learning and Wellbeing Action Plan
> Imagine a school team seeking to improve learner engagement and everyday wellbeing without adding another short-lived initiative. Participants identify one concrete need, review existing strengths, select supportive routines and communication practices, and develop an implementation plan with clear responsibilities and simple review indicators. The result is a realistic wellbeing action plan that can be adapted after the mobility.
